The Inter-State Commerce Commission Not Let Decided On, But a Massachusetts Man Sald to be Chosen.

THE INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

Special to the Gazette. WASHINGTON- March 21 .- The only absorbing topic in Washington continues to be the personnel of the inter-state commission. Every man prominent in business or political life who comes here is at once seized upon as a certain candidate for a place on the board, and he is interviewed and pumped until he leaves W. W. Crape of Massachusetts, who was here on Saturday, it is learned to-day, positively declined the proffer of a place. It seems to be the settled conviction of every one that a New England man is to be chosen before the President can aunounce the appointments. The latest to be selected by common consent is Hon. John W. Candler of Boston, who was a member of the Forty-seventh Congress. Mr. Candler only served one term, but during this service he made an exceedingly valued member of the commerce committee, which at can be induced. So, with a Massachuthree members have been definitely

Sowers, one of the most prominent physicians of Washington, in an interview with a reporter declared there is danger that | President Cleveland will not live through his term unless there is a change in his mode of living. Dr. Sowers, six months before Manning's sickness, made the him of his danger. In an interview to-day Dr. Sowers says: "It may be deemed impertment to talk to the President through a newspaper man, but I know of no other way of reaching him and those about him. Surely you recall my attempts with the friends of Mr. Manning and their fruits, and I do not feel i s ould take the same chances apprised of the President's condition, and not be long before there will be reason 1 or alarm. President Cleveland is a large, White House has gained enormously in flesh. Now, when be was in Buffalo it was his habit to take walks. Since he came here he has abandoned all form of use and the smooth streets for which Washington is famous. The President is a man who works with his head a great deal, is in fact an intense brain worker. brain is consequently filled with an excess of blood. What is the result? He works with his head, sels are weakened, and it is only a quesment he bursts a blood vessel. I tell you at the rate President Cleveland is now live throughout his term.
